Annual Antioch High Homecoming Celebration Starts With Parade, Pep Session Friday Night Football Game vs Round Lake, Dance Saturday

Fantasy Land Theme of Homecoming Decorations

Queen Unannounced Until Game This Year—Three Seniors

Under the general theme "Fantasy Land" Antioch Township High school will stage its annual Homecoming celebration this weekend.

Starting with a parade Friday evening, the students will make the community aware of the event.

Heralded as the best parade ever, the line of marchers and floats headed by the school band will move up Main street from the school about 7:15 p. m. Business houses will enter floats and cars and one of the cars will bear the candidates for queen.

Breaking precedent the school this year will have three senior candidates—one for each foot-ball captain—and the identity of the queen will not be made known until during the half of the football game. Hereafter the queen was announced in advance.

After the parade there will be a bonfire and pep session at the school grounds. Players and coaches will be introduced and short speeches made.

Following the game with Round Lake High at 8 p. m. Saturday there will be a Homecoming dance in the Boys' gymnasium at which the queen will be introduced and crowned. Her escort will be crowned king.

A large crowd is expected at the game if the weather is satisfactory.

Lyle W. Woodbury Resident of Salem, Dies at Strang Home

Lyle W. Woodbury, 72, Salem, Wis., died at 9:15 a. m. Sunday, Sept. 28 at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Ed. Strang and her husband.

He was stricken with a heart attack about 8 a. m. and was given first aid treatment by the Antioch Rescue squad. An hour later he suffered a second attack from which he could not be revived.

Mr. Woodbury was born April 16, 1885 at Ord, Neb. He formerly lived at Bristol before moving to Salem 25 years ago.

He was a member of the Washburn Masonic Lodge No. 147, Free and Accepted Masons, and was the oldest past master of that lodge. He was also a member of Bristol Chapter No. 154, Order of Eastern Star.

Mr. Woodbury worked as station agent for the Chicago and North Western Railroad for 25 years, and for the past 25 years was a sales representative of Taylor Wholesale Groceries at Waukegan.

Surviving are the widow, Ethel, of the home; the daughter, Mrs. Evelyn Strang of Antioch; and two grandchildren.

Services were held at 2:30 p. m. Tuesday at the Strang Funeral home. The Rev. Carroll Usher of the Salem Methodist Church officiated. Interment was in Alden cemetery at Alden, Ill.

Plan New Road at Sequiot Acres to Relieve Downtown Traffic; Board Has Busy Session

A plan by which a new road to Sequiot Acres off Rte. 173 may be constructed, thereby relieving downtown traffic, was placed before the Village Board Tuesday evening.

John Broecker, Waukegan, engineer, produced a rough draft of a plan which would place the road at the east side of the industrial subdivision east of the Soo Line track, and would skirt the east side of the Antioch Township High School property, making an entrance there too.

The problem of the project is to avoid peat bogs and this, Broecker proposes to do to a great extent.

In other business, the Board opened bids on a new tractor and front-end loader. The bids were Peterson Bros. Implement Co., Ferguson tractor-loader, $3,225; Reed-Tandell, Ford $2,945; Olson Implement Co., International Harvester, $3,550.

The committee will study the offers and make a decision in a few days.

Varsity Game Will Be Only Contest at Night

Large Crowd is Expected If Weather is at All Satisfactory

Antioch High will attempt to produce a victory over Round Lake High here Saturday night before a Homecoming crowd after having suffered her first defeat last weekend at the hands of the Warren High Blue Devils 21 to 6.

There will be but one game and the varsity will take the field at 8 p. m. Although Round Lake has not entered the victory column in conference play, the Sequoits don't intend to be the victims of an upset.

It was just a case of too much Bob Fugett. The Blue Devil quarterback passed to John Richardson for a gain of 44 yards and a touchdown and then kicked the extra point for the first Warren score. In the third quarter he ran around right end for 95 yards for the second touchdown, while Nick Gowe provided the extra point, and then in the fourth quarter he provided the extra point after Hassen had passed to Gowe for 54 yards and the goal.

Antioch's only score came in the second quarter when George Lystlund ran eight yards around left end for the T-D. The kick for point was blocked.

Antioch dominated the play from scrimmage. In the first half the Sequoits got but three first downs to Warren's four, but in the second half they made eight to the Blue Devils' one.

The yardage total was Antioch 214, Warren 211. Antioch completed 10 of her 24 passing attempts for a total of 105 yards, while Warren completed five of its six attempts for a total of 156.

Fugett carried the ball from scrimmage only eight times, but he netted 113 yards, and he threw only three passes, but they were good for a total of 150 yards.

Lystlund was the big ground gainer for Antioch. He carried the ball nine times for a total of 57 yards or a 6.6 average.

Strange as it may seem, Warren never penetrated any deeper than the 33-yard line except on the three touchdown plays.

On the other hand, Antioch was a continual threat.

Hans Meyer, 77, Dies After Long Illness

Hans Meyer, 77, died Wednesday, October 2, at his home in Felter's subdivision, Antioch, following a lingering illness.

He was born August 27, 1880 in Steinbering, Germany. He came to America in 1913, settling in Chicago, moving to Antioch in 1939. He was a painter and decorator.

Survivors are his wife, Marie, two daughters, Mrs. Marie Dreibradt, Hendersonville, N. C., and Mrs. Frieda Hollmann, Deerfield, a brother, Ludwig, in Germany, and three grandchildren.

Friends may call at the Strang Funeral home from 2 p. m. to 10 p. m. Friday. Private services will be held Saturday.

Band Parents Hear E. C. Moore Discuss Woodwind Instruments

Thirty members of the Antioch Grade School Band Parents Assn. heard E. C. Moore of Kenosha discuss woodwind instruments at their meeting Tuesday.

Mr. Moore traced the history of that type of instrument from the fife, exhibiting some of the various woodwind instruments as he spoke.

He explained how a child by playing a musical instrument obtains both physical and mental advantages, and at the same time learns the Golden Rule. At the conclusion of his talk he and Mrs. Moore played a flute duet. Mrs. Moore's flute was solid gold, hand made and engraved. Mr. Moore's flute was solid silver. The selection they played was written by Friedrich Kuhlau.

Following the meeting refreshments were served by Mrs. Close, Mrs. Lemke, and Mrs. Thompson.

Moose to Dedicate Hall

The Loyal Order of Moose will dedicate its new lodge hall on November 2, the Village Board was informed Tuesday night when a request for an extension of the club license was made.

Trustee Bernard Osmond said that many out of town lodge dignitaries will be present at an open house to which the public will be invited on that day only. Afterward admission will be to members only.

Two Teenagers Die In Auto Collision On Rte. 173 Sunday

Local Rescue Squad Takes Injured to Waukegan Hospital

Clarence Rudolph, 16 of Richmond, and Virginia Dawson, 16, of Spring Grove died as the result of an accident early Sunday morning at the intersection of Rte. 173 and the Johnson road near the Lake-McHenry County line.

Injured and taken to Victory Memorial hospital, Waukegan by the Antioch Rescue squad, were Mrs. David (Rosalia) Wolf, 25, 602 10th St., Waukegan; Paul Leeds, 41, Highland Park; and Kenneth Mansfield, 17, Spring Grove.

Others were taken to the Woodstock hospital or elsewhere by police car or Richmond ambulance. They included David Smith, 30; Deloris Smith, 16; and Timothy Lennon, 15, and Glen Haynes, 35, Waukegan.

Police said that Mansfield, driver of the car in which the two were killed, ran a stop sign at the intersection and collided with the other car driven by Leeds in which the Wolfs and Haynes were riding.

Leeds, a Highland Park jeweler, is manager of musician Ike Cole, brother of nationally known singer Nat (King) Cole.

Another accident on Rte. 173 at Harvard in which a Lake Villa woman, Mrs. Elaine Padjen, 26, was involved, took the life of Alonzo Heffelfinger, a farm worker.

Other services provided by the Antioch Rescue Squad were the conveyance of Mrs. Hulda Bowman, 65, of Hardin St. to Victory Memorial hospital on Monday; and the supplying of oxygen to Miss June Beaumont, 19, of Loon Lake, a sufferer from a respiratory ailment.

Village Board Seeks Opinion on Zoning From Property Owners Through Letters

Do Antioch residents want property zoning?

This is the question that was raised Tuesday night after President Murrill Cunningham proposed a committee to start action toward this plan at the Village Board meeting.

A request for two volunteers from among the village trustees to serve with four other citizens on the committee brought no response.

Trustees John Blackman and Ed Vos, two men suggested for the committee, said they did not have the time to give it proper attention and Trustee Bernard Osmond was skeptical as to whether the Board should take any action until it is certain the people will want it.

Mayor Cunningham said that Antioch is about the only village of its size in Lake County that doesn't have zoning laws.

"We are far behind other communities in this respect," he warned the Board.

"Two theories of the part the Village plays in community government were advanced in the discussion.

Atty. E. C. Jacobs said it is the duty and responsibility of the Board to proceed to plan the zoning and then hold public hearings on the proposals, modifying them as desired.

Trustee Osmond said the mandate should come from the people and proposed that opinion of property owners be obtained.

Mayor Cunningham then asked the Antioch News to announce that cards or letters be written to the Board care of the Village Clerk stating the position of property owners.

"You will find that those who favor it will not write," commented Atty. Jacobs.

Mayor Cunningham had proposed the zoning plan in the belief that the Village, already far behind other villages, would want to come up to date. As it is a factory or any kind of business legally can be established along side the finest residence.

The matter was left to the will of Antioch citizens in their letter writing campaign.

Harvest Festival Sale Oct. 11 Prepared By Antioch Merchants

Martha Medlinger, 79, Buried Saturday

Mrs. Martha Medlinger, 79 of 254 Depot st., died Wednesday, September 25, at 12:30 p. m. at the home of her daughter, Mrs. W. H. Curnes, following a lingering illness. She was born Sept. 18, 1878 at Luebeck, Germany. She came to America at the age of four years, settling in Chicago, where she resided until coming to Antioch in November, 1956.

She was a member of Cathedral chapter 883 Order of Eastern Star of Chicago, North American Oriental Council 668A of Chicago. She was preceded in death by her husband George A. Medlinger, August 18, 1953.

Survivors are a son, George A. of Chicago, a daughter Erna Malmquist, Floral Park, N. Y., and Mrs. Anita E. Curnes, of Antioch; three grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

Funeral services were held at 1:30 Saturday at the Strang Funeral home with the Rev. Edmund Hood of St. Ignatius' church officiating. Interment was in Ridgewood cemetery, Des Plaines.

Wilnot, Troy Tie 7-7; To Play Whitewater

Wilnot was forced to settle for a 7-7 tie against East Troy Friday, a game they had figured to win. Against a much better team—Mukwonago—the week before, they again tied 6-6.

The Panthers were ahead 7 to 0 when with 4½ minutes left John McKenzie passed to Al Bronson, Troy end, who ran 61 yards for a touchdown. Carl Fleishman kicked goal.

Wilnot scored in the second quarter after a march from the Troy 38-yard line and then Quarterback Jim Bauman shot through the four yards to goal. Bauman passed to Partentheimer for the extra point.

Friday, the Panthers will take on Whitewater City, and this time they will make certain there is no tie game.

Democrats Seek Donations

Raymond A. Jadrich, chairman of the Lake County Democratic Central Committee announced today that the Dollars for Democrats Drive would be held in Lake county on Oct. 11-12. He said that the planning for the drive has been under way for some time.

"The Dollars for Democrats drive is the answer our party has to the huge donations made to the Republican party by the wealthy few," Mr. Jadrich said. "We must get our funds in small amounts from many people instead of in big amounts from a few."

He said the drive goal of Lake county would be $3000.

Attend Fire School

Several Antioch Fire Department members attended the fire school at Bonnie Brook Fire Station Tuesday evening. Enrolled for the course were Vern Barnstable, Robert Webb, L. R. Van Patten, Jr., James Quadenfeld, and Bernard Gutowski.

Chamber of Commerce Promises Bargains to Shoppers of Region

Stores Will Be Open Friday From 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. No Parking Tax

Antioch merchants have completed plans which call for the biggest bargains yet at the annual Fall Harvest Sale which will be held for one day only, Friday, Oct. 11.

Eight-foot penants in fall colors announcing the sale have been placed on light poles in the business area and smaller penants in store windows re-enforcing the invitation to shoppers of a wide area to attend the sale.

Advertising in a special Chamber of Commerce issue gives a sample of the bargains that will be offered, but low prices will be found on many articles not listed.

Stores will be open at 9 a. m. and will not close until 9 p. m. (DST). Wisconsin residents who are back on Central Standard time should bear these hours in mind.

Antioch has a free parking lot on Broadway, but the Village is going one better and will make all parking free for the day. Parking meters will be hooded to remind the shoppers that they are guests for the day.

Shopping at night in Antioch is a pleasure because with the mercury vapor lamps in the streets and the well lighted stores they can move about easily and identify the quality of merchandise.

An attempt will be made to have a sufficient number of sales people for the day. The advice, however, is to come early, not only to get the better selection, but in a few instances to get into the store, for if there is good weather, there will be a big crowd.

Mrs. Sue Cox Dies; Channel Lake Corner Bears Family Name

Sue Cox, 71, Channel Lake, Antioch, died Sunday at Victory Memorial hospital, Waukegan, following a lingering illness.

She was born December 17, 1885 at St. Louis, Mo. and she made her home in Antioch for the past forty-five years. She and her late husband, Eugene Cox, operated a store and tavern at Channel Lake for many years. The location was known as Cox's corner.

Her husband preceded her in death October 9, 1947. Funeral services were held at 1:30 Wednesday at the Strang Funeral home, with the Rev. Edmund Hood of St. Ignatius Episcopal Church officiating. Interment was in Hillside cemetery.

Much Early History of Antioch Area Revealed In Interview with Mrs. Murry (Lydia) Horton

Ninety years of Antioch history has been seen through the clear, twinkling blue eyes of a cheerful little lady who this past week celebrated her 90th birthday. Mrs. Murry Horton, one of Antioch's oldest and highly esteemed citizens, was honored last Sunday at an open house at the home of her grandson, Robert Horton, W. North Ave., Antioch. Co-hosting the occasion with Mr. and Mrs. Robert Horton were her other grandchildren, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Hauser, Mr. and Mrs. Leo Keiser and Mr. and Mrs. Ray Horton, all of Antioch.

I found "Aunt Lydia" as she is widely and affectionately known, lovely in a dress of mauve taffeta and a corsage of white carnations and pink rosebuds, seated in her favorite rocking chair graciously receiving felicitations from a large throng of relatives and friends. As Lydia Proctor, third of six children, she was born in a one room log cabin just a mile west of her 554 Parkway address where she lives with her son, Earl. As a resident of Antioch or its close vicinity all her years, Aunt Lydia has seen this Lake County community grow from a meandering dirt wagon road flanked by a few stores and a scant dozen houses to the bustling modern hub of businesses serving a wide and ever growing area of homes, as it is today. In the days when according to the old maps, Sequoit creek was referred to as either Gage, Illinois, or Squaw creek, Cyrus and Eunice Proctor took up farming on 80 acres adjacent to the juncture of the old State Line and Trevor roads.

Lived in Log Cabin
"There was a little log cabin which the Indians had lived in," says Aunt Lydia, "and of the 80 acres there were but maybe 10 or 15 under cultivation. The rest was thickly timbered with oak and hickory with hazelbrush and sumac so dense there was but one path through it. Maybe you don't think that wasn't work, clearing the new land with only a team of oxen and a hand plow. Rattlesnakes, too, lots of them; one or more were killed every few weeks for a number of years, especially down in the slough lands nearby."

In sharp contrast to today's convenient can opener, prepared mixes and frozen foods, the problem of daily eating was in those early days a four-season struggle with the land and the elements. "Father always raised his own corn and wheat and rye, and took it to Wilnot to have it ground at the mill there. Home made wheat bread, johnnycake, and rye bread, and always (continued on page 9)

Not for Sale

A magazine published by one of the farm equipment companies points out that "human safety is not for sale." Years ago, the article continues, the various companies... "took the stand that if a company invented or developed a safety feature, it should—by every measure of decency—be available to all.... This is why farm equipment companies do not condone the advertising of safety features on equipment. You may read occasionally that a certain device makes the equipment safer. This is in good taste, simply as a part of safety education, but all reputable farm equipment personnel accept 'the gentlemen's code' which holds that safety features are not to be used for 'selling advantage'."

In all other respects this industry is an extremely competitive one. Every company attempts to offer machines which are superior to those of competitive companies and to persuade potential buyers of their advantages. This means that the farmer gets the best equipment at the lowest price possible under today's economic conditions. But when it comes to safety, ideas and innovations are pooled—and the buyer of each and every brand gets a piece of equipment which is as basically safe as the designers and engineers can devise.

However, safety features can't prevent accidents if the equipment isn't properly used and the safety rules aren't followed. The factories can't stop farmers from making mechanical alterations which create hazards, or from allowing children to run the machine, or from operating them at night on public roads without adequate lights, or from other such accident-inviting practices. So, in the final analysis, safety is up to the user.

Economic Highlights

The schools are in session again throughout the country. This in itself may give special interest to a talk which Samuel B. Pettengill, a former Congressman and a well-known writer on public affairs, made some time ago before the Cum Laude Society of the Vermont Academy.

Mr. Pettengill's theme is that the essence of life is struggle. He takes a dim view of that commonly-held attitude which causes parents to try to make life easier for their off-spring than it was for them. And he takes the dimmest possible view of what is generally known as the welfare state, with all the expensive buffers it attempts to place between people and adversity. He says: "In recent years, society has gone 'nuts' on the pusillanimous cult of 'security', guaranteed by the government; in short, a nation of parasites. The illusion of the age is that people can vote themselves rich. It is a superstition that 'social security' depends on the promises of politicians, not on the character, competence and courage of men. It is a fable and a fraud that the out-pout of society can be greater than the in-pout of individuals."

Going on from this, Mr. Pettengill feels it is woefully wrong when, for example, labor unions say, in effect, to their members, "Take it easy. Do no more than enough to stay on the payroll." And he is deeply concerned over the fact that young people, in applying for their first jobs, often ask such questions as these: "When will I begin to draw a pension? How many coffee breaks in a day? How many paid holidays? If I work more than 40 hours... do I get time-and-a-half?"

Mr. Pettengill cites the point of view of a number of distinguished men who exalted struggle above almost everything else. One is Emmanuel Lasker, for many years world champion at the most difficult of all games, chess. Lasker, who had shown brilliance as a mathematician and philosopher, was asked why he had given so much of his life to this game. He answered: "The chessboard is a symbol of life—of all life. The essence of life is struggle. Take struggle out of chess, or out of life, and what is left? In chess I have found happiness." Mr. Pettengill's own advice to parents follows from this: "Don't take struggle out of your children's lives."

A famous American is also quoted—President Theodore Roosevelt. His philosophy was described in these words: "I wish to preach not the doctrine of ignoble ease, but the doctrine of the strenuous life." And his wish for himself was: "Let me wear out, not rust out." His appeal was always to the strong side of men—never to the soft and the weak.

To quote Mr. Pettengill once more: "Avoid struggle and life becomes sterile, vapid and meaningless. Our mental hospitals are being filled with thousands of neurotics, many of whom feel inadequate to meet life because they were protected from taking the bumps in childhood." He ends his talk with a verse from a poem of the frontier:

"I dream no dreams of a nursemaid state
That spoons me out my food.
"No, the stout heart sings in its strife with fate,
"For the toil and the sweat are good."

Economy for the Other Fellow

During the last session of Congress, Senators and Representatives from all parts of the country reported an unusually large amount of mail in which stringent government economy was urged and demanded. There was a real "grass-roots" movement in favor of reduced appropriations. And that pressure produced some results. According to a News-week tabulation, new appropriations were $6,200,000, 000 below the President's proposed budget.

However, there is another side to this coin. It is described in a brief article in U. S. News & World Report, which says, "Washington is beginning to hear from people back home who are hurt by cutbacks in government spending." Individuals and organizations are vigorously protesting economy moves that affect their interests—though, no doubt, they endorse economy as a general and abstract principle with equal vigor.

Ironically, a large share of the complaints has come from local chambers of commerce. That includes the chambers in large cities and small. And these chambers are always among the first to demand government economy—again as a general and abstract principle. But it's something else again when it is felt in their communities.

In other words, a good many of the groups and people who preach economy want to limit it to the other fellow's interests. The last thing they want is economy that touches their pocketbooks. This attitude deserves the description "disgraceful." It explains why so much waste and avoidable spending still goes on. Long ago, it was said that a people get the kind of government they deserve. That is 100 per cent true.

STATE OF ILLINOIS EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT PROCLAMATION

WHEREAS, Property damage and loss of lives by fires during the past years has accentuated the need for more fire-preventing practices, and

WHEREAS, The aforementioned loss of lives and damage to property could have been prevented, to a great extent, through the greater emphasis on effective fire-preventing programs in Illinois communities, and

WHEREAS, State and local governments, the Red Cross, the Chamber of Commerce, and all business, labor and farm organizations, as well as civic groups and individuals of this State, have been urged by the President of the United States to endorse Fire Prevention Week and to recognize the need for fire-prevention programs,

NOW, THEREFORE, I, William G. Stratton, Governor of the State of Illinois, do hereby proclaim the week beginning

OCT. 6, OF THE PRESENT YEAR as FIRE PREVENTION WEEK, IN ILLINOIS, and commend the occasion and its significance to the appropriate agencies and individuals throughout our State.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the Great Seal of the State of Illinois to be affixed.

Lake Villa Methodists Plan Larger Program At Church Dinner

Wednesday evening, Oct. 9, at 7 p. m. members and friends of the Lake Villa Community Methodist church will gather at the Lake Villa public school for a congregational dinner meeting. The enlarged program for the church in the coming year will be considered, including the expansion of Christian education for our youth and adults, greater influence for good in the community, and for a more stable and peaceful world.

All are urged to be present to make suggestions and share their views. Arrangements have been made for the care of small children, and all children under twelve years of age will be served free.

In charge of the meeting is James DeWaters, general chairman. Committee chairmen are Robert Rolin, Vern Blust, Delbert Sherwood, Harry Weber, Peter Hollocker and Robert Henderson. The women of the Lakeland Baptist church will have charge of serving the dinner.

Mrs. Horton Greeted By Many at Birthday Celebration Sunday

A large number of friends and relatives congratulated Mrs. Lydia Horton on the occasion of her 90th birthday anniversary Sunday during open house from 2 to 5 p. m. at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Horton on North ave.

Many came from a distance and were well repaid with the smiles and hearty greeting of Mrs. Horton. Her five nieces, all sisters, were present. They include Mrs. Lela Flynn, Mrs. Mae Bowers, and Mrs. Eva Lindblade of Chetek, Wis.; Mrs. Elsie Benin of Milwaukee and Mrs. Alfred Hansen and her husband of LaPorte, Ind.

Others present from a distance were Leland Bennin, Milwaukee; Mr. and Mrs. Donald Railton and daughter, Beverly, and Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Flynn of Chetek; Mr. and Mrs. Emmet Hansen of South Bend; Mr. and Mrs. Glen Prosser and family of LaPorte, Ind.; Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Kummerow of Chicago; Mrs. Harry Nathans and daughter of Chicago; Mrs. Tillie Belanger, a lifelong friend, accompanied by her daughter and husband.

Others were present from Waukegan, Bristol, Kenosha, and Libertyville.

Powers Lake Club Plans Turkey Shoot Week From Sunday

The Powers Lake Sportsman's club is planning a turkey shoot from 10 a. m. until dark Sunday, October 13 on County Trunk F & P.

This affair will have a carnival spirit with games of all types in a large tent. Lunch will be served on the grounds. Games for the kiddies and something for mom and dad. Trap and target shooting for dressed turkeys and ducks.

For two years the club has raised and released about 700 birds each year. They have a fish program going on now. All this is done under state supervision. The club is planning an ice fishing rodeo some time in February. There is an expansion building program going on at present to be able to raise 1,400 birds next year. All labor has been donated. Some day the club hopes to be able to build its own club house. The pheasant pens are located on County Trunk O south of Wheatland Center school. The club is three years old, having about 110 members.

Much Early History....

buckwheat pancakes for winter breakfast. Mother started her own yeast from hops and corn-meal, and used it through the winter, saving some yeast dough from one batch for the next. We always had a fine garden each summer, raised cabbage and onions, turnips, beets, potatoes, all kinds of vegetables, storing them down in the cellar along with the molasses, and the lard and pork brining in barrels, from the pigs Father butchered each fall.

Made Own Soap
"We made our own soap, too. All grease drippings were carefully saved, and every bit of ashes from the wood stove too, stored through the winter in a couple of barrels. Then in the spring, we young ones were given the task of tending the leeching of the ashes, when water was poured slowly over them to wash down the lye that was used to make soap, a job that usually took a week or so and most generally wasn't tended as lively as it should have been, kids being as they are," Aunt Lyd smiled.

"My Father raised sheep, also. He would shear them and take the wool to the woolen mill up near what is now Fox River Park to be cleaned and carded. Mother then spun it on her wheel at home, running it through her reel and spindle, and either made it into garments or took the skeins to have stockings made at $1.00 a pair. They were thick and warm and came up to the knee, and wore like iron. Sometimes she dyed the wool, always using indigo, and the shade of blue depended on how tightly the yarn was twisted when dipped in the dye."

Lydia Proctor at the age of six attended school in the one room frame school house in town, located on the same corner as the present modern structure. She recalls it had plank seats, and a pot-bellied stove set at the back with a six-inch stove pipe that ran like a monstrous serpent the entire length of the room and out the wall above the teacher's rostrum. It is one of her favorite recollections that once or twice a winter that pipe would choke up with soot, wood being the fuel generally used, and then the school board of directors would have to hire some man to remove the heavy pipe from its wire fasteners at the ceiling and carry it outside and clean the thing out. "My, that was the sorriest looking mess you ever saw," remarked Aunt Lyd. "That black stuff had to be cleaned up from all over the school yard. Of course school had to be dismissed for the day when the stove pipe was cleaned but we children didn't object too much to that."

Who Will Rule at Homecoming?

Which one of the girls will be queen of the 1958 Homecoming at Antioch Township High School will be made known at the football game on Saturday night. Coronation will follow at the dance.

Water From Town Pump
She recalls also that the school children obtained their drinking water from the old town pump which, with its wooden horse trough, stood in the center of the intersection of Main and Depot streets in front of the school house. "In some hot spells of weather the pump went dry and then we had to go to the neighbors' houses for our water," says Aunt Lyd. The men worked full days for a dollar to $1.25 a day, and eggs sold for seven cents the dozen, with butter at a price scarcely worth the effort to churn it. She remembers the old wooden bridge across Sequoit Creek before its scarred, splintery planks were replaced with a wider one of concrete and stone. Upon being asked what in her estimation represented one of the biggest improvements in the town during the years, Aunt Lyd promptly responded, "When they put the sidewalks in, that surely did help a lot! Why, along the hitching rails where the horses stood and stomped away the flies there'd always be great mires of either dust or mud, just terrible conditions. Of course then with the board sidewalks, there was the silly narrow step or two at the corner ends, and many a bad tumble was taken on a dark night when you couldn't see the step there, until they put up a few kerosene street lamps."

Railroad Brought Visitors
Lydia Proctor was married to Murry Horton in 1884, and it was shortly thereafter that the railroad, then known as the Wisconsin Central, was built through Antioch. With its coming, the quiet little town of less than 800 developed swiftly, not only because of its rich fertile lands well suited to agriculture, but also because of its close proximity to a wonderland of lovely lakes. From May to October it was as now, the center of a flourishing summer resort business. Many people of refinement and wealth had cottages where the Indians once camped. Hunters and fishermen visited the lakes in the spring and in the fall. The Lotus Beds at Grass Lake became a famous and highly popular sightseeing spot. Thousands of workers spent their vacations at the large hotels which soon were to be found on all of the lakes. Some of these establishments are still in operation today under the same family name as their original owners. Mrs. Horton, as well as a number of other older Antioch residents, can well recall the bustling scene at the railway depot when on a week-end, hundreds of visitors from the city alighted from several daily trains to await further transportation to the popular lake spots, via the horse-drawn carry-all buggies called side-seater busses, and, later on, by early model cars.

As with every small town throughout America, the advent of the automobile marked the most radical change in the pace of Antioch's daily living; the quiet intimacy of tree shaded dirt roads and the necessarily limited activity of horse drawn transportation gave way to the clamor of paved streets lined with telephone and electric poles and the accelerated hustle of motor-borne traffic. "People these days live too fast," commented Aunt Lyd with a gentle shake of her gray head. "And too high. Young people today don't realize how easy they have things. They take so much for granted, not knowing how it used to be. Which is how it must be, I suppose."

When asked the inevitable query as to what she could attribute her long life, Aunt Lyd smiled and said, "I worked hard all my life and the Lord willing, it never hurt me none."

I had to take my leave after a while but carried with me the picture of a lovely little lady in the big rocker, her hair shining silvery in the bright window. The entire town of Antioch wishes you a Happy birthday, Aunt Lyd, and many more, and is proud to have you as one of its most esteemed citizens, for it is sturdy, fine folks like you who have helped our town become the kind of town it is today, a good place in which to live.

LEGAL NOTICE

AN ORDINANCE AMENDING AN ORDINANCE OF THE VILLAGE OF ANTIOCH, ILLINOIS, ENTITLED "AN ORDINANCE CONCERNING DOGS" AS AMENDED.

BE IT ORDAINED BY THE PRESIDENT AND BOARD OF TRUSTEES OF THE VILLAGE OF ANTIOCH, ILLINOIS:

SECTION 1: DANGEROUS DOGS. No vicious, dangerous, ferocious dog or dog sick with or liable to communicate hydrophobia or other contagious or infectious disease shall be permitted to run at large in the Village.

SECTION 2: RUNNING AT LARGE. No dog shall be permitted to run at large in the Village at any time. It shall be the duty of every registered owner of every dog to keep said dog safely and securely muzzled if and when it is taken on leash into any public place.

SECTION 3: DISTURBING PEACE. No person owning any dog shall suffer or permit such dog to disturb the peace and quiet of the neighborhood by barking, making other loud or unusual noises, or by running through or across cultivated gardens, lawns, yards, or fields.

SECTION 4: NUISANCES. Any dog found in the Village either without a license or running at large under conditions set forth above is hereby declared a nuisance and shall be impounded as herein-after provided.

SECTION 5: IMPOUNDING. It shall be the duty of the Chief of Police or other police officer to capture and impound in a pound to be furnished by the Village, each and every dog found at large without a license or muzzle as is in this Ordinance provided. The owner and owners of any dogs impounded hereunder may redeem the same by paying all the costs, charges and penalties assessed, if any, that have accrued up to the time of making the redemption, and when the same are paid to the Village Collector it shall be the duty of the Chief of Police or other officer to release the dog from said pound and deliver him to the owner thereof.

Immediately after impounding any dog hereunder, it shall be the duty of the Chief of Police or other police officer to enter upon the records of the Pound in a book to be kept for such purpose the date of impounding, a description of the dog he impounded and a record as to whether or not such dog has been licensed and tagged as required by Ordinance.

Public notice of the impounding of such dog shall be given by posting the description of such dog and date of impounding at the pound on the bulletin board in the Village Hall. Any such dog not redeemed by the owner thereof within five days after the posting of such notice shall be and he is hereby declared to be a public nuisance. The Chief of Police or other police officer shall immediately thereafter kill or destroy such dog.

It shall be the duty of the Chief of Police or other police officer to cause notice to be served by mail upon the registered owner of any licensed dog impounded under the provisions of this Ordinance, such notice to be mailed at least two days prior to the posting of the notice of impounding hereinbefore provided.

SECTION 6: DOG BITES. Whenever any dog bites a person, the owner of the said dog shall immediately notify the Chief of Police who shall order the dog held on the owner's premises or shall have it impounded for a period of two weeks. The dog shall be examined immediately after it has bitten anyone and again at the end of the two week period. If at the end of two weeks a veterinarian is convinced that the dog is then free from rabies the dog shall be released from quarantine or from the pound as the case may be. If the dog dies in the meanwhile its head shall be sent to the State Department of Health for examination for rabies.

SECTION 7: INOCULATION FOR RABIES. It shall be the duty of the owner of each dog required to be licensed hereunder to have said dog inoculated against rabies at least once each year, and no license check or tag for a dog shall be issued hereunder unless there is submitted to and filed with the Village Collector evidence, as specified herein, of such inoculation within twelve months prior to the date of the making of application for such license check or tag. No dog more than two months old shall be permitted to be within the corporate limits of the Village at any time without having been inoculated against rabies within twelve months prior thereto. The meaning of "inoculation against rabies" as used herein shall be the same as that set forth in the definition in "An Act in relation to the control and prevention of rabies and to repeal an Act therein named," approved July 6, 1953 (Illinois Revised Statutes 1953 Chap. 8, Sections 23c to 23x). Each inoculation required hereunder shall be administered by the Rabies Inspector appointed pursuant to the aforesaid Act, or by his deputy, or by any licensed veterinarian. Evidence of such inoculation shall consist of a certificate signed by the person administering the vaccine. There shall be obtained for each dog so inoculated and worn by such dog at all times the tag provided for and as specified under section 6 of the aforesaid Act (Illinois Revised Statutes 1953, Chap. 8, Section 23j); and as, if and when any dog is found in the Village without wearing such last mentioned tag, it shall constitute prima facie evidence that such dog has not been inoculated as required hereunder. Any dog found in the Village which has not been inoculated as required hereunder shall be deemed and held to be a nuisance, and shall be impounded and disposed of in the same manner as is provided in this Ordinance for the impounding and disposal of a dog as a nuisance for any other cause.

SECTION 8: FEES FOR IMPOUNDING AND KEEPING. A dog impounded under this Ordinance may be redeemed by the owner upon paying the reasonable cost of board and care of such dog for the time during which same may be impounded, plus the license fee payable for said dog if any is then due and unpaid hereunder, plus the cost of the inoculation of said dog and in addition the sum of $1.00 shall be paid into the Village treasury as reimbursement toward the cost of the Village of impoundment aside from board and care; and provided further that no dog shall be released if required to be confined, treated or disposed of under this Ordinance unless and until, it may be released pursuant to the provisions hereof.

SECTION 9: PENALTY. Any person violating any provision of this Ordinance shall be fined not exceeding $200.00 for each offense.

SECTION 10. All ordinances or parts of ordinances in conflict herewith are hereby repealed.

IT WAS YOUR DAUGHTER'S FIRST NIGHT AT COLLEGE...

The house was quiet and lonely. You didn't dare look at your husband, for if you did, you knew the tears would come. So you just sat there, waiting. And you knew he was waiting, too.

The telephone rang. Almost before you knew it, you were hearing her voice again, feeling the youthful enthusiasm behind her words. "College's wonderful, Mom! I miss you and Dad, but you're not far away by telephone, are you?"

That's the moment you knew life wouldn't be half so pleasant without the telephone.

Miss Shepherd Is Recent Bride of F. J. Rausch

Miss Jeanette Julia Shepherd became the bride of Frederick John Rausch in a double ring ceremony September 14 at eleven o'clock at Holy Name church, Wilmet, Wis. Miss Shepherd is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Shepherd of Antioch and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Rausch of Wilmet, Wis.

The Rev. Fr. Harold Herbst officiated at the service. The bride given in marriage by her uncle, Lester Mueller, chose for her wedding a ballerina length gown of imported chantilly lace featuring a sabrina neckline, trimmed with iridescent beading and seed pearls. A drop waistline and bouffant skirt with scattered iridescent beading completed the ensemble. A tiara of rhinestones held her fingertip veil. She carried a cascade bouquet of gardenias and stephanotis.

Attending the bride as maid of honor was Miss Ann Marie Vos and bridesmaids were Mrs. Donald Marcussen and Miss Nancy Jean Cunningham. They wore gowns of peacock blue nylon over taffeta with satin cummerbunds terminating in a bow and streamers. They wore pillbox hats of matching peacock blue feathers, trimmed with tiny teardrop pearls and circular veils. Their flowers were colonial bouquets of pink and white carnations.

John Rausch, Jr. served as his brother's best man. Donald Marcussen and William Richards, Jr., were ushers. A reception for 350 guests was held following the ceremony at Silver Lake Legion hall.

The bride is a graduate of Antioch High school and is employed with the Frank G. Hough Co. at Libertyville. The bridegroom is a graduate of Union Free High school, Wilmet, Wis., and is serving in the U. S. Army and is stationed at Woodbridge, Virginia.

Methodists to Observe World-Wide Communion, Men's Dinner Planned

World-Wide Communion Sunday will be observed Sunday, Oct. 6, at the 9:30 and 11 a. m. worship services at the Antioch Methodist church.

The Rev. Howard Benson announced that the church practices "open communion" and he invites all professing Christians to partake.

All men, young adults included, are invited to the men's dinner at 6:30 a. m. Monday at the church. A representative of Alcoholics Anonymous will be the speaker. Reservations may be made with Harrison Brown or Elmo Edwards.

There is still time to join the Christian Worker's School, a class which will be held at 7:30 p. m. Tuesday at the Libertyville Methodist church and for four succeeding Tuesdays. A class on "The Christian Family" will be offered.

Fire Prevention Week Starting Oct. 6 Calls For School and Other Building Inspection

Finance Campaign of Boy Scouts to Start in Illinois Oct. 16

A coordinated finance campaign of the Boy Scouts of America will be conducted simultaneously in nearly all communities of the State of Illinois starting October 16, in order to raise the necessary funds for the continuation of Scout units and expansion of the Scouting program to even more boys. Serving as general chairman for the state of Illinois is Governor William G. Stratton.

Participating in the State-wide fund raising drive will be thirty-one Boy Scout Councils. Antioch and Lake Villa are part of the North Shore Area Council with headquarters in Highland Park. E. A. Schweichel of Lake Bluff is Scout Executive and Edwin L. Frederick of Libertyville is general finance chairman. The campaign goal in the North Shore Area Council, which includes campaigns from 24 communities is $26,000.00. The balance of the Council Budget is received from Community Chests and United Funds in 11 communities in the Council.

With the tremendous growth taking place in America's youthful population, membership in the North Shore Area Council is expected to exceed the 9000 boy mark by the end of 1957. This increased enrollment coupled with an expanded program geared to offer the benefits of the Scouting Program to all members must be financed by the generous contributions of citizens in the communities served.

Norvin Stoffel of Felter's Subdivision is in charge of the Antioch campaign and Willard W. Schneider of Burnette ave., Lake Villa, has charge of the campaign in that area.

Shorthorn Sale Monday At Susanna Farm, L. V.

The first production sale of Shorthorn cattle will be held Monday at Susanna Farms, Lake Villa, Ill. Founded in 1938, the herd reached prominence in 1952 with the purchase of the $19,000 International Reserve Grand Champion bull, Leveidale Custodian.

This sale will contain some of the most famous young animals of the breed, including the 1956 International Junior Champion bull, the 1957 Denver Champion bull, all the members of the winning sire of the 1957 Denver show, the grand champion bull at the 1957 Chicago and Shorthorn Show, the undefeated senior yearling bull of the 1957 show season, and the Reserve Grand Champion bull at the 1957 Indiana State Fair.

The Show herd representing Susanna Farms has been exhibited at the Lake County Fair, the Chicago and Shorthorn Club Show, the Illinois, Ohio, Indiana and Kentucky State Fairs, and will be shown later this fall at the Pennsylvania International, and the Eastern National, at Harrisburg, Pa., and Timminium, Md., respectively, as well as the 1957 International Livestock Exposition at Chicago.

Governor William G. Stratton has proclaimed next week as Fire Prevention Week.

Fire Chief Edgar Simonsen will tie the department's annual inspection in with the observation of this week, and will conduct fire drills at the schools in the fire district.

School buildings, business houses and factories will be inspected for fire hazards.

Simonsen urges home owners to inspect their premises for anything that might start a fire.

The department had its first grass fire call Monday at Nielsen's Corner. A garbage fire got out of control and set fire to grass. The firemen snuffed it out before it spread to a nearby field.

Chief Simonsen reminded the public that the law is strict in regard to the burning of rubbish.

Mrs. Anton Johnson Visits Injured Youth

Mrs. Anton Johnson returned home Thursday after spending a week visiting in Elgin. While there she was the guest of her sister, Mrs. Henry Schramm and family. She also visited her niece's son, Dale Raddatz, 12, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Raddatz, Jr.

The boy was critically injured Aug. 6 when he jumped on the 600-volt third rail of the Chicago, Aurora and Elgin Railway at the south edge of Elgin, while chasing butterflies. His life was saved by Arthur Swenson of 164 S. Porter st., who pushed the boy off the rail with a board.

Dale's left foot was amputated, but the fate of the other foot remains in doubt. Burns on his chest and abdomen are improving.

Registration on Monday For Adult Night School

Registration will be held at 7:30 p. m. Monday for the adult night school at Antioch Township High school which will run for ten weeks.

Teachers and their subjects will be Miss Esther Slavin, typing; Miss Patricia Howard, public speaking; Mrs. Kathleen Walther, homemaking; Melvin Stillson, woodworking; and Robert Walther and William Romoser, driver training.

Those enrolling will select meeting nights when they meet on Monday. Ten must register before the class can be taught.

Funeral Service Friday For Frank C. Fleider, Loon Lake Resident

Frank C. Fleider, 70 died unexpectedly from a heart attack at 12:01 a. m. Tuesday at his home on Rte. 83 at Loon Lake.

He was born Oct. 17, 1886, in Chicago and resided there until 14 years ago when he came to Antioch. He was a retired laborer.

Survivors are his wife, Hazel, a son, Frank, and four grandchildren, all of Antioch.

Funeral services will be held at 1:30 Friday at the Strang Funeral home, with the Rev. Edmund Hood, of St. Ignatius' Episcopal church, officiating.

SCOUTS CUT PAPER DRIVE PICKUP AREA

Because of many circumstances including lack of trucks and manpower, it was decided by the scout leaders at last week's paper drive meeting to eliminate the area west of Tiffany road from the monthly pickup. All those living in that area who customarily save paper for the scouts are thanked for their cooperation and urged to bring their paper directly to the Scout House.

The rest of the Antioch area will be covered regularly the last Saturday of each month.

35 Years With Ill. Bell

Rodney Rochambeau, Rte. 1, Lake Villa, recently marked 35 years of service with Illinois Bell Telephone Co.

Rochambeau began his telephone career as a central office installer and has since held positions of frameman, switchboardman, exchange repairman and PBX repairman. He is presently a communications serviceman in the Chicago offices of Illinois Bell. He attended the Lewis Institute and Lane Tech.

New Dog Ordinance Requires Inoculation, Control of Animals

Antioch has a strict dog ordinance as the result of an amendment of an old ordinance passed Tuesday evening by the Village Board of Trustees. It went to third reading before passage.

Penalty for violation of this ordinance may not exceed $200.

Elsewhere in this newspaper, a legal notice stipulates means of redemption.

There is one weakness of the provisions of the ordinance so far and that is the village does not yet have a dog pound. It is probable that a fenced enclosure will be used until one can be built.
